

made in new zealand

slinkylinks pure silver audio cables.

enter the Slinky Zone. The first set of Slinkylinks (often best used between CD and amp) will yield a worthwhile improvement – you'll hear more music and less noise. Because there is now more music to work with, the benefit from Slinkylinks speaker cables will be greater than it otherwise would have been. Now the system will really be starting to sing and if a pre/power combination, the inclusion of a second set Slinkylinks interconnects will deliver a greater step up than the original set did. The effect is cumulative as a system that is more transparent makes any upgrade more obvious than it might have otherwise been.
